Issue description Search engines can use the description meta tag to generate descriptions for snippets, but they may shorten it to a length they deem acceptable. For this reason, it's important that the page description is clear and concise, and defines the page's topic.		How to fix The general recommendation is to keep your page description length up to 158 characters, although Google can sometimes display longer snippets.

Issue description The <h1> tag is the top-level page heading, which is the most important <h> tag. People usually see the <h1> tag as the title of the text, and search engines use it to understand what the page is about. Keep in mind that from the SEO perspective, the <h1> tag is the second most important tag after the <title> tag.	How to fix Make sure all of your web pages have a unique <h1> header tag. Depending on the website type and page structure, there may be more than one <h1> tag, but it is highly recommended to use only one <h1> tag per page. The key thing to keep in mind here is that your pages need to be logically structured.

Issue description Duplicate <h1> headings on different pages prevent search engines from understanding which site page is relevant to a particular search query. Pages with duplicate header tags are less likely to rank well, as they can confuse search engines about the page topic.	How to fix Write a unique <h1> for each page on your site, adding a clear description of the content on the page.
