Description

Misconfigured redirects can lead to incorrect locations. This can confuse users, ruin their experience, increase the number of HTTP requests to your website, and result in a traffic drop and crawling budget decline. The checks in this section help you maintain control over your redirects and pinpoint room for improvement related to them.

⚠ 3XX HTTP status code

<https://www.plumbersthatcare.com/backflow-testing>

Issue description

The pages indicated in the report return a 3XX response code, meaning that a redirect is set up from such pages. The 3XX response code in itself is not a problem, but each redirect puts an additional load on the server, so it's better to remove unnecessary internal redirects.

How to fix

Make sure that the number of 3XX pages on your website does not exceed 5% of the total number of pages. If their number exceeds 10%, then you have a critical problem, and you should immediately remove some of the redirects.

Description

A sitemap is a file that contains a list of all the URLs on a website that crawlers should be aware of. It must be free of irrelevant or invalid URLs to prevent it from hurting your crawl budget. The checks in this section help ensure your sitemap remains in place and error-free.

Issue description Search engines can use the description meta tag to generate descriptions for snippets, but they may shorten it to a length they deem acceptable. For this reason, it's important that the page description is clear and concise, and defines the page's topic.	How to fix The general recommendation is to keep your page description length up to 158 characters, although Google can sometimes display longer snippets.

Issue description The <h1> tag is the top-level page heading, which is the most important <h> tag. People usually see the <h1> tag as the title of the text, and search engines use it to understand what the page is about. Keep in mind that from the SEO perspective, the <h1> tag is the second most important tag after the <title> tag.	How to fix Make sure all of your web pages have a unique <h1> header tag. Depending on the website type and page structure, there may be more than one <h1> tag, but it is highly recommended to use only one <h1> tag per page. The key thing to keep in mind here is that your pages need to be logically structured.

Internal links help search engine crawlers discover new web pages and ensure link equity distribution across the website. External links help support ideas and facts expressed in content with data from external sources. Both are indispensable components for a good user experience. However, they can ruin it if they don't work properly. This section checks whether the links on your website work correctly. It also suggests improvements if it discovers any issues.
